

M&M Consulting
of Glens Falls, New York

25 Years of a Dedicated Business Services

Back in time..... of virtually 25 years, M&M Consulting began as an Independent Component Engineering Consulting Business. This venture involved Component Electronics, and highly customized Communications for our US Military and Primary Contractors.

This Component Engineering Consultant worked diligently in support of US Primary Contractors. Due to the fact that the primary Consultant is a US Military Veteran, working through the Government Requirements, and Regulations was not an issue.

In addition to the Component Engineering Consulting, more Services grew and took on a life of their own developing into: Business Development, Custom Career Training Seminars, Image Consulting, Resume Services, Sales, Marketing, Advertising, Computer Training, and more!

At this time M&M Consulting is answering the demand for Custom Business & Training Seminars for the fulfillment of Career Development and assisting individuals whom are pursuing a way to improve their current employment situation, or in pursuit of a brand New Employment Opportunity.

Business skills and an update of your Professional Image can offer you an advantage towards successful Employment!
